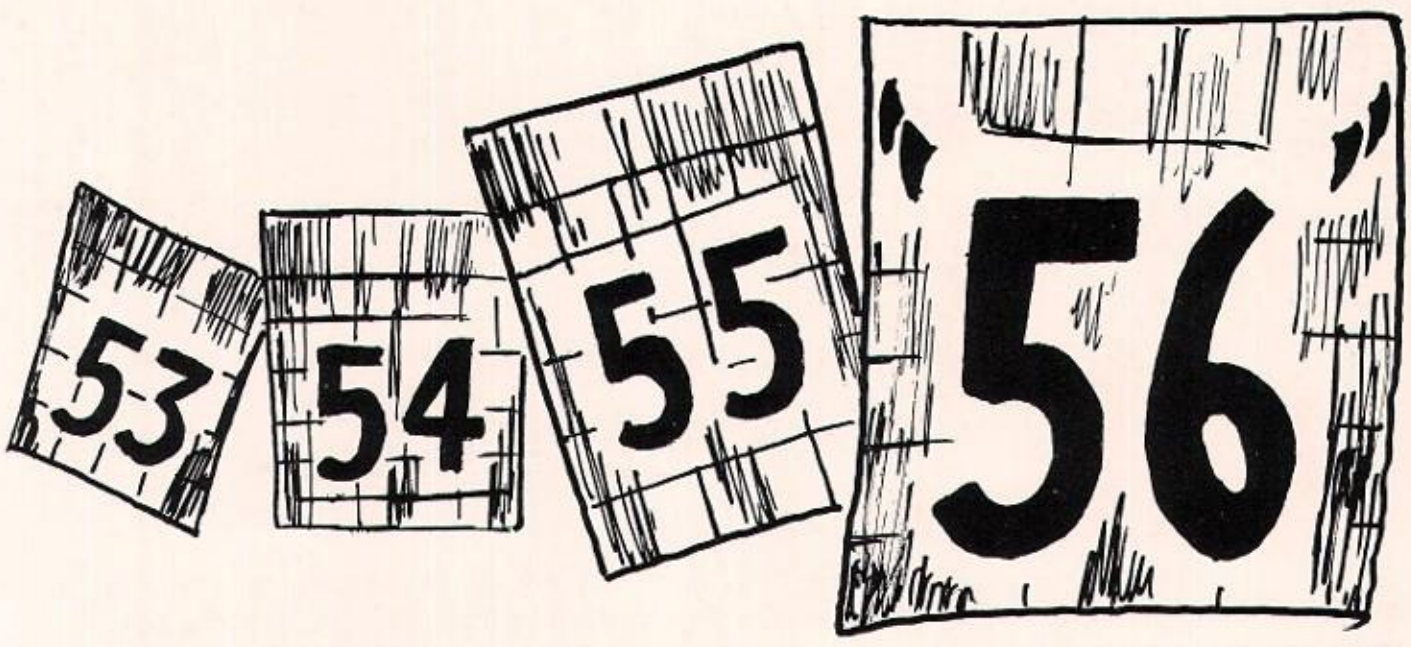
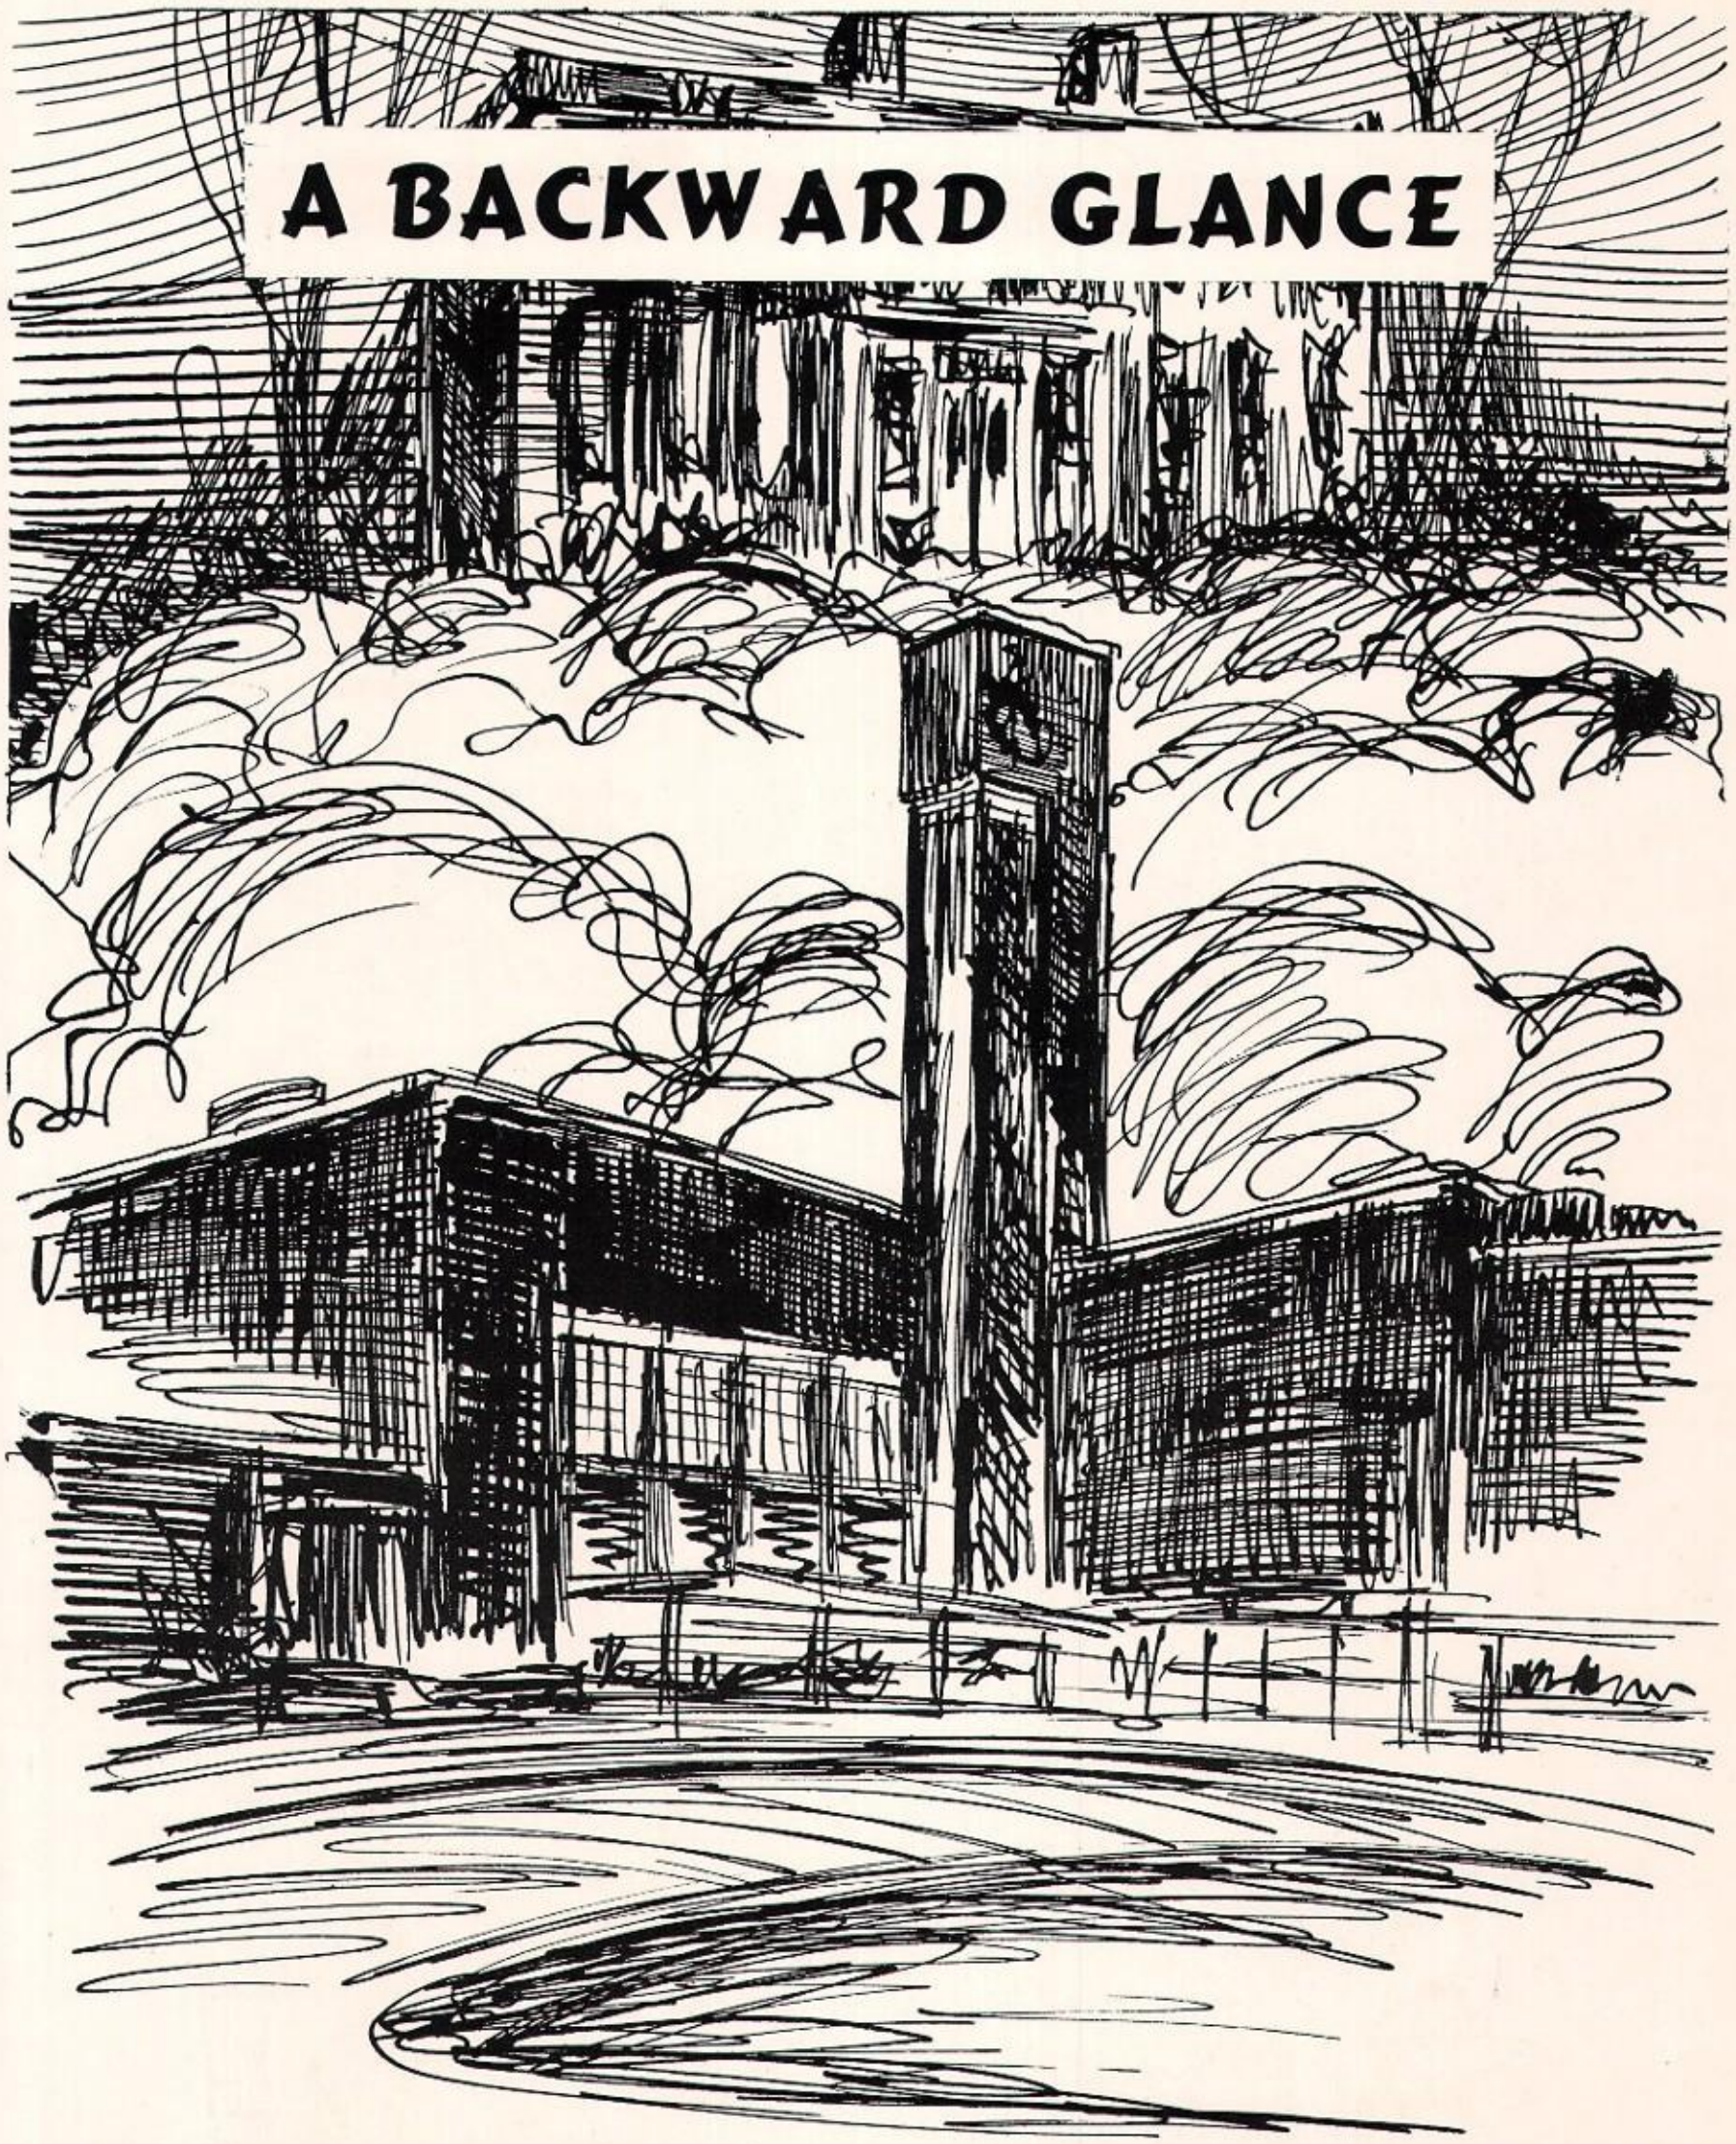
INTRODUCTION

A poet once said, "A memory is the power to gather roses in wintertime." To the members of the class of 1956 of Northern High School, this book will be a treasure-chest filled with memories —each page will be a rose. To the underclassmen, it will be an example for the future; and to our adult readers, it will be a reminder of their past. Since high schools bridge the gap between adolescence and adulthood, the story of high school is the story of growing youth. Many of the unforgettable experiences shared during this period can never be relived; only their memories remain.

This is our attempt to put into concrete form those experiences of thought, word, and deed. This we do in the simplest possible manner, without the aid of an artificial, so-called "theme." Instead, our intent is merely the purpose of all yearbooks: to give an account of the wondrous abstracts of learning and living, of thinking and doing, of growing and changing that have been our four years at Northern High School.



A BACKWARD GLANCE



As any experience draws to a close, time is usually taken, consciously or otherwise, for examination and evaluation. Let us now take this opportunity to look back over the past four years and relive the exciting incidents, touch both the heights and depths of physical pleasure and mental strain. As we don the ultra-super helmets of our atomic-powered time machine that takes us into the past, we set the dials for that fateful day in September 1952, when the class of 1956 came to Northern High, and off we go for an adventure of excitement and thrills.

FRESHMAN YEAR

Here we are, September 3, 1952—our first day of high school! It's a nice autumn morning as we see ourselves walking up the steps of the old school building. Last year, we were 110 individuals, going to the various "one-room" schoolhouses in the area; now we are one body—the Freshman Class of 1956. As we pile into the community building with our class mates to be greeted by Mr. Evans, the principal, we are bursting over with anticipation and excitement, wondering who our teachers and fellow students will be. Little do we realize that the friends we are about to make and the fun we will have, will be remembered for a long time. Finally our names are read and we follow our homeroom teachers up the hill. We learn that our class is occupying the rooms of Miss Wright, Miss Kerstetter, (Mrs. Snook) and Mr. Turner.

Soon it comes time for elections. Officers are: President, Jan Wiley; Vice President, Barry Bollinger; Secretary, Barbara Hoopes; Treasurer, Mary Rodgers; Historian, John Zerby, (four years).

Gradually the freshmen get into the activities, newspaper work, athletics, choruses, clubs, etc. The magazine drive begins—after outselling our competitors, we get to go to the Allenbury Dance for free — zowee!

As Farmers' Day arrives, the excitement begins to mount for this big event. We stand watching the parade, eagerly awaiting the arrival of our float. Here it comes! Decorated in red, white, and blue, it depicts the coming Presidential election. Our frantic cheers seem to have no effect on the judges, however, as we don't win a prize.

What's this? New schoolhouse? Ah, yes! It's March 9, and we're moving into the beautiful Northern High School Building, that cost approximately $1,250,000 (and that ain't hay).

Spring arrives with summer vacation not far off — oboy, I can hardly wait!

SOPHOMORE YEAR

This is the year the wheels of school life begin to grind. We finally learned the name of the girl across the aisle and found out who the bashful boy in the last seat is. Our home room teachers are Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Neff and Mrs. Habig.

Being a year old and thus more sophisticated and accustomed to school life, we participate whole-heartedly in the activities of the school — dances, skating parties, club functions, etc. The class officers are elected as follows: President, Bob Brenneman; Vice President, Linda Leight; Secretary, Robert Nailor; Treasurer, Barry Sealover. On Farmers' Day our float is again unsuccessful.

As November rolls around, we prepare to select a class ring. While the representatives from two manufacturers try to outsell each other, we become involved in heated arguments. After several votes, the Cadillac model of the Balfour Company is selected. We all eagerly await their arrival in December.

Christmas time brings the traditional carol-singing assemblies and "pulling" names. This is the year the purple and white jackets are made the official school jackets. Our Sophomore year is closed by a picnic at Hershey Park.

JUNIOR YEAR

Back to school again in the fall. This time we seem to feel a bit more important. After an assembly in the auditorium, we are assigned to the rooms of Mrs. Sanders, Mr. Hoopes and a part of Mr. Kaup's. Soon the officers are elected—President, Linda Leight; Vice President, Doris Cromer; Secretary, Carol Arnsberger; Treasurer, Barry Bollinger.

The float for Farmers' Day called "Hansel and Gretel" was complete with a gingerbread house, a lollipop tree, and a wicked witch. The car was decorated with a wedding cake with a doll bride and groom on top.

"Evening in Paris," the theme for the prom, was cleverly woven into the beautiful decorations of the Allenberry's Crockett room. A sidewalk cafe and an art shop highlighted the decorations. Floral floats, twining ivy and colorful flowers, also aided in creating an exotic Parisian mood. The ceiling, elaborately draped with blue cloth studded with silver stars, produced an outdoor effect.

Upon entering the ballroom through the French-type swinging doors one would first confront the cafe, at the extreme right. The pattern of the red bricks was broken by a green door and shutter. Colorful balloons were fastened to the sides and a blue awning streamed from the top. The wall surrounding the front was covered with flowers and ivy.

The art shop to the left consisted of colorful French paintings. A glittering banner on the wall opposite the shop denoted the theme in sparkling letters. Directly beneath there was a pink flower cart containing bright peonies, pansies, and snowballs.

An exquisite meal was served in the Bosler Room. Throughout the dance the musical strains of Will Fishers Orchestra filled the room with mystic melodies—a truly memorable evening.

SENIOR PLAY

The production of OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY will always remain deep in the hearts of those who aided in its performance. The play was successful both financially and educationally and the experiences enjoyed by the cast and crew will long be remembered.

The three-act comedy, which was an autobiography by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, told the delightful story of the adventures of two nineteen-year-old girls who took an ocean voyage to France during their vacation. Judy Topper and Linda Leight portrayed the leading roles as Cornelia and Emily, the two girls.

The dominating parents of Cornelia, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Skinner (Barry Sealover and Jean Edgar), were also making the trip. Fortunately, however, they were going on another boat.

On board ship, the two girls made many friends. Dick Winters and Leo McEvoy, two Harvard medical students, were played by Barry Bollinger and Jan Wiley. Mary Lefever as Harriet St. John and Jane Davis as Winifred Blough were two English girls. The story begins to display a bit of humor when the girls become involved with some of the members of the ship's crew—the Steward (Elwood Myers), the Purser (Carl Leathery), the Stewardness (Mary Kay Folley), the Admiral (Leon Baker), and the Inspector (Rita Shore).

As the action progressed the girls finally arrived in Paris. Cornelia, who had just recovered from a case of measles, wanted to take acting lessons from Monsieur de la Croix, who was portrayed by John Zerby.

While staying in a hotel the girls met Madame Elise (Nadine Dick) and Therese (Kay O'Dell), a mother and daughter who ran the hotel. The window cleaner in the employment of the hotel was played by Leon Baker. At this point several hilarious episodes follow. The father became involved with bedbugs which were inhabiting Cornelia's bed, and Monsieur de la Croix, who was only interested in Otis Skinner, leaves in a rage. The story takes a happy ending, when the two boys arrive and Cornelia discovers she had acting talent after all.

Of course we can never forget the individual who contributed the most to this success—our beloved "coach," Mr. William Ketterman. Without his expert directing, his untiring devotion, and his masterful touch, the efforts of the cast would have been in vain. To him goes our deepest gratitude, respect and admiration.

Dear Members of the Graduating Class:

Your class, in my considered opinion, accomplished a monumental piece of amateur theatre in its production of "OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY."

Before I go further, let me clarify my own position. I did only what any thinking director must do; that is, I trained my cast on the fundamentals of stagecraft and taught them how to release their inhibitions and abilities, so that their characterizations might emerge completely and believably. The basic talent had already been put there by a far greater hand than mine. I merely enhanced their native gifts. Therefore, to them must go the credit.

It took uncommon courage to tangle with this production in the first place. With a cast of seventeen and a multitude of problems like costuming, scenery, sound, set appointments, etc., all of which usually never occur in the standard high-school drama, the play is a real challenge to persons in any echelon of theatre activity. For amateurs it is a tremendous undertaking.

Certain individuals excelled, of course. However, the delightful part of this nostalgic recall is that I can report in all honesty that everyone came across in splendid style. Judy Topper had the toughest role, and she played it magnificently. She was best. John Zerby's audacious buffoonery as M. de la Croix was a peak in amateur characterization. But let us never forget the solid contributions of all others concerned. Linda Leight was pert and perfect as Emily. Jan Wiley, a fine amateur actor, and Barry Bollinger, who played beautifully despite a bad throat, were excellent foils for the high jinks of the girls. Jean Edgar and Barry Sealover were just right in their heavy character roles. Kay O'Dell was a confection and Elwood Myers, a farm boy without previous experience or inclination in things theatrical, saved the day with intelligent ad-libbing. He came across nobly. Bless him! High praise must go to Leon Baker, who played two roles and played them well. Carl Leathery and Mary Kay Folley did very well by small roles. Mary Lefever and Jane Davis mastered the English dialect in no time flat. Nadine Dick, Kay O'Dell, Rita Shore, Leon Baker, and John Zerby did the same with the French.

The class owes undying gratitude to Robert Paxson and his helpers, and to all others who contributed both time and talent. In the last rehearsing, however, it was the talented, thoughtful, and courageous class of '56 who merit the bows. I tip my derby to the finest group of young people with whom I have ever worked. Please know that I shall follow your pursuits with undiminishing interest through the years. My heart is younger and gayer for having worked with you in this very worthy project.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM KETTERMAN

"We go to Harvard. We're Medical students." I mean — mademoiselle — zat you have no talent!

"I must request all passengers to remain in their cabins during the emergency."

". . . chain me with ROARING BEARS!"

"Such a lovely, lovely summer — and it's all over."

"Be of good cheer. Stout fella, now!"

"May I see your passports?"

"Bedbugs aweigh, my lads—bedbugs aweigh!"

SENIOR HISTORY

It takes a little while for us to realize we finally are seniors. We have spent eleven years in school, and now we soon will graduate.

This year we have a new administration—Mr. Scott, supervising principal and Mr. Smith, high school principal. With them, they brought various changes in the school. Numerous organizations were formed—among these: Student Council which was one of the most important and also the National Honor Society.

We did, however, participate in the magazine drive and Farmer's Day as other years. The money for the drive bought a projector and the remainder went into the activity fund for school parties and dances.

Elections got under way. The following officers were elected: President, Barry Bollinger; Vice-President, Carol Arnsberger; Secretary, Linda Leight and Treasurer, Judy Topper.

During Farmer's Day parade our float for the first time captured a first prize. After winning prizes in other parades in the vicinity our work proved very profitable.

The play, Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, was one of our biggest activities and proved very worthwhile. Much to our dismay, however, the money was stolen from the school safe. The business men of the community came to our assistance and the net loss was not too great.

The senior Problems of Democracy class went on a field trip to Philadelphia December 1st. Here is an account of the trip written by Linda Leight.

"Bright and early Thursday morning (at 5:15), droopy-eyed Seniors left for the train station in Harrisburg, enroute to Philadelphia. Upon leaving the Philadelphia station we boarded two sight-seeing buses, for a tour of the city. One of the interesting points was a drive through Fairmont Park. Benedict Arnold's house was one of the highlights here. Strangely enough at the United States mint, they wouldn't give us any samples.

The Betsy Ross House was our next stop. From here we went to Independence Hall, where the most interesting thing here is the Liberty Bell. Do you know what? Davy Crockett didn't patch up the crack in the Liberty Bell either. Then came what everybody was waiting for—lunch! What you needed here was a lot of nickels. After lunch we spent an hour in the Franklin Institute seeing many interesting exhibits. "Cinerama Holiday," at Boyd Theater, was next on our list. This brought many thrills to all of us. We went window shopping and saw many things which I know everybody asked Santa Claus for. By the way, we saw Santa when we went through John Wanamaker's Store. We ate supper at Horn and Hardart's. From here we went to the station, where we boarded the train for our weary homeward journey. A wonderful time was had by all."

OUR FIRST PRIZE WINNING FLOAT

Dale Smith, principal and Arthur Kaup, teacher, accompanied the class members.

A Christmas musical entitled, "Holiday Highlights" was presented by the senior high choruses Wednesday, December 21.

The sophomores, juniors and seniors presented a mystery farce entitled Ramshackle Inn, February 23 and 25 in the school auditorium. The play was directed by Mr. William Ketterman.

Jane Davis portrayed the leading role of Belinda Pryde, the woman who solved the mystery. Supporting her in the other roles were Jean Edgar and Elwood Myers who played Joyce Rodgers and Mr. Arbrithnot respectively, Mame Philips, (Tillie Slyder), Constable Small (Leon Baker) and Commodore Lucius Towser, Belinda's fiance for twenty years (Stanley Reynolds). Patton, played by Ronald Wallace was a sinister handy man around Ye Olde Colonial Inn. He was a member of a bootlegging ring that operated at the Inn. Mr. Temple (Dale Hollandsworth), Dr. Steven Russell and wife, Gail, played by Jan Wiley and Judy Topper, and Fred Porter (Barry Sealover) were members of the gang. Miss Alice Fisher (Linda Leight) arrived at the Inn with her sister Gail.

The plot of the play involves Bill Philips, (Barry Bollinger) who has just returned from jail and Mary Temple (Judy Slothower) Bill's girl friend. The Constable and Gilhooley, a cop played by Arthur Rider, make a feeble attempt to break up the ring. Several exciting episodes followed, including several murders. The mystery is finally solved as the story ends.

This year Mr. Paxson painted a mural in the lobby of the school building. The title for the mural is The Progress of Education in the Rural Schools.

As time passed again plans were made for the Prom, which was presented by the juniors.

Of course, we shall never forget the fun, adventures and pleasures we had on our senior trip. The three days in New York proved exceedingly enjoyable as well as educational.

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

M. Luther Scott was graduated from Indiana S. T. C. where he received his B. S. degree and then attended Penn State University for a Master of Education. Since 1936, he has taught at Blairsville, Newport, and Lewistown High School, was principal of Millerstown High, supervising principal of Greenwood Joint Schools, and was assistant county superintendent of Perry County.

To the Class of 1956:

Congratulations on the completion of another milestone of your life—graduation from high school. Through your efforts, the efforts and interest of your teachers, and the sacrifices of your parents you have achieved this goal. Always be grateful to those who have helped you along the way.

May your lives be blessed with an abundance of success.

Sincerely,
M. Luther Scott
Supervising Principal

Dale W. Smith attended Cataleba and Elizabethtown Colleges where he received his B. S. degree and Temple University for his master's degree and is now doing graduate work there. Each summer since 1940, he has been employed at the seashore. He was in the U. S. military service for two years and served with the combat engineers in Europe. This is his first job as a high school principal, but he taught in suburban Philadelphia, and was principal of an adult education school there.

Just as a parent regards his first born with a little more pride and admiration, so shall I, as a new high school principal, regard this graduating class at Northern.

For you, I wish the many good things of life. Your school believes that the purpose of your education here was to help you live your own lives. It has tried to cultivate in you, as future citizens, an appreciation of both the responsibilities and benefits which will come to you because you are Americans and are free. It has tried to equip you to live democratically with satisfaction to yourselves and profit to society as students, workers, home members, and citizens.

If in all your affairs you conduct yourself in an honest, sincere, and straightforward manner, you will find the road to the top and to success easier to climb.

May the success you desire come to each of you.

Sincerely,
DALE W. SMITH

FACULTY

Of course, we will always remember our classes, and above all—our teachers. Yes, those unsung heroes are the ones that give us our education. Their theories and principles tested our mental processes: their business and vocational courses trained us for future occupations; the languages gave us a foundation for all studies; social studies informed us of personal and world wide problems; athletics developed strong useful bodies; and the arts and music created interests and hobbies. It would be difficult to compliment each one individually. Rather the words of Billy Sunday are the most fitting: "Teachers of children fill places so great, that there isn't an angel in heaven who wouldn't give a bushel of diamonds to come down here and take their place." Let us now look at our capable and understanding teachers—as we saw them, as we shall remember them.

Landis. THIRD ROW: M. Pickle, A. Bair, P. Brandt, B. Haines, L. Nell, R. Kearns, G. Harbold, C. Bross.

If the organizations of Northern High would be ranked according to their importance, the Student Council would be first. The Council efficiently governs the school's social and business affairs.

Being newly formed this year, the Council's main job was to get itself organized and establish a constitution as well as publish a handbook for students. Among its other activities the Council placed in the school a pencil vending machine and a juke-box for the cafeteria.

Participating in the Inter-scholastic Student Councils, several of the local group traded places with students from Camp Hill for one day. The advisor was Mr. Musser and the officers were as follows: Kathryn Miller, President; John Miller, Vice President; Mary Lefever, Secretary; and Joyce Flohr, Treasurer.

The Publication of the Panorama of 1956 has been an experience—an experience for the class as well as the school. It is a combination of captions, pictures, hastily typed write-up, planned lay-outs, much hard work and the needed assistance of business men and friends.

The staff was headed by:

Editor in Chief ---------- John Zerby
Associate Editors ---------- Carol Arnsberger
Kathryn Miller
Business Manager ---------- Barry Bollinger
Literary Editor ---------- Jane Davis
Art Editor ---------- Jay Knaub
Photographic Editor ---------- Leon Baker
Advertising Manager ---------- Linda Leight
Treasurer ---------- Barry Sealover
Assistant Treasurer ---------- Elwood Myers
Typist-in-charge ---------- Darlene Sowers

Other members of the class in turn served on various staffs who contributed much to the book.

Literary Staff — Jean Edgar, Barbara Hoopes, Robert Brenneman, Carol Leathery, Judy Topper, Mary Kay Folley, Mary Lefever, Roxy Diller.

Art Staff — Stanley Reynolds, Janice Nell, Jane Kauffman, Irene Yost, Charles Urich.

Photographic Staff — Lorine Cook, Rita Shore, Carala Bair, Marian Laird.

Advertising Staff — Doris Markle, Nadine Dick, Hilda Bubb, Marlene Fogle, Bonnie Lou Brehm, Eugene Harbold, Darlene McCurdy, Audrey Herr, Darlene Hollandsworth, Linda Leight, Mary Myers.

Circulation Staff — Ernest Rider, Lois Evans, Nancy Detter, Robert Otto, Norman Thran, Larry Wonders, Tom Baker, Donald Bonsell, John Ilgenfritz, Erma Newcomer, Aquilla Grove, Fred Shives, George Harlacher, Charles McCoy.

Typist Staff — Gloria Wiley, Millie Arnold, Arlene Dutrey, Mary Shambaugh, Sandra Snyder, Querida Fickes, Gertha Null.

It is our hope that our readers will continue to enjoy reminiscing over their high school days, as they are recorded here.

A peek into Monday meetings finds the Purple and White staff, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Taylor preparing another edition of the school's newspaper. The job of editing this publication fell to Carol Arnsberger and her capable assistant Lenore Harbold. John Zerby searches for snapshots .....Barry Bollinger and Jean Edgar try to get the sports articles in on time..... behind the secrets of "The Wondering Flea" is our ghost writer, Marlene Fogle.

And so deadline for the Northern mouthpiece finds some reporters with cramped hands, others dashing off an article, and still others searching for new ideas. The typists type the copies and Mrs. Taylor breathes sighs of relief as the material goes to the printer.

The newspaper publishes the latest and most interesting news, prints the newest "gossip," and strives to make its readers enjoy themselves. Did you like it? We hope so!

BAND

Left to Right, FRONT ROW: C. Mills, G. Alwine, B. Sealover, C. Fetrow, J. Lowery, J. Nell, J. Farence. SECOND ROW: J. Otto, E. Books, L. Myers, J. Paxton, J. Miller, J. Wiley, B. Bollinger, W. Under the fine direction of Chester Richwine, the band has become an asset both to the music department and to the school. The Northern High Band consists of 35 members in both the Junior and Senior High.

Although music at football games was the band's specialty, the band engaged in playing for the Farmer's Day Parade, assemblies and a Musical Concert.

Some members of the band displayed their talents in a small combo, which provided music for student dances.

Of the many organizations Northern High has to offer to its students, one of the most enjoyable is the Mixed Chorus. Each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday during the eighth period one may hear the harmonious tones of the chorus issuing forth from the Music Room. Its sixty-five voices blend in harmony on both sacred and secular numbers.

The Mixed Chorus operates under the baton of Mrs. Lucille Steele. Student officers, however, are elected to assist their leader. The president, Carol Mills takes over in the absence of the director. Kathryn Miller, secretary, takes the roll and Jean Edgar and Ronald Wallace, librarians, pass out the music. This year Hilda Bubb is the regular accompanist.

The major activity of the chorus was the production of "Holiday Highlights," their Christmas Program. Through much effort, the group was able to capture the feeling of sacred arrangements. The Waring arrangement of "Twas the night before Christmas" received high student and chorus approval. The chorus sung for assembly and various community programs in addition to a splendid concert with the band. They appeared on T. V. in connection with the Christmas performance.

The members of the chorus can look back upon their activities with utter satisfaction, knowing that their group under the guidance of the director and officers has been a great success.

GIRLS' CHORUS

"All right, girls, let's begin," and Mrs. Lucille Stelle starts off another session of the Girls' Chorus. President Hilda Bubb is ready to take over if necessary. Mary K. Folley takes attendance. Joanna Hoff and Judy Slothower have distributed the folders. Lenore Harbold is seated at the piano; and the singing of 60 voices begins. Sectional rehearsals, expression and diction drills constitute the best part of the period. Interest in this organization is held by the wise selection of songs and good results seen....."Straighten chairs and pass the folders over".....another day with the Girls' Chorus comes to a close.

Their first public appearance was in the "Holiday Highlights", in which they favored their audience with lovely arrangements of familiar carols.

After the holidays the chorus began working on its spring activities. New music was chosen and the girls settled down to master the songs. The goals then in view were assemblies, various community programs, commencement and baccalaureate services.

Turning now from our clubs and activities, we take a look at the athletics at Northern. We well recall those thrilling and exciting games, the noise of spectators almost drowning out the referee's whistle, and the eager and grim look of determination on the faces of the players.

Yes, they seem almost like a dream now. And as we look back, we realize that our teams actually represented ourselves, for life is a game. May we always strive to win. And may this be our guide: that no matter what happens, we always can say we tried. "He can who thinks he can."

"When in the dusk I get the final bell, I ask for no lying, complimentary stones. I'd only like to know that You, dear God, feel I've been a good guy."

All the sports events in Northern are won or lost through team participation except track and field events. This sport depends solely on the expertness of each individual.

One of the main track events was the York County meet. Our school came home with 3rd place in the broad jump and 4th place in the 220 yd. dash.

Two events held on our field were as follows: a triple meet with Biglerville gaining the most points—51, Dallastown next with 35, and Northern 23. One other event where Northern came out on top with 47 points over East Berlin's 43. Mr. Schaeffer was the Coach.

The 1955 soccer squad brought to a close soccer activities at the Northern. This sport, which has been the traditional fall activity of the school for several decades, has been terminated so that full emphasis may be placed on football, which will field its first varsity squad in 1956. The 1955 Polar Bear record of 4 wins, 6 losses, and 1 tie may not be as impressive as some of the records of the past, but the squad played vigorously and valiantly, proving to be good sportsmen even in defeat. In total points the Polars chalked up 22 points against 21 points by opposing teams.

FOOTBALL TAKES OVER WHERE SOCCER LEAVES OFF.

During the years 1930 - 1935 inclusive, Dillsburg High School had a comparatively good football team, considering the size of the school and the teams with which Dillsburg was compelled to compete.

In 1935 the sport was discontinued because of the expense involved. At that time soccer became the major sport of our school. Now, in 1955, football again becomes our major sport. During the years 1935 - 1955 Dillsburg and Northern won several district championships and on three occasions played for state honors but were defeated. Both in football and soccer, Arthur T. Kaup was the coach.

On January 13 and 18 the boys received their awards—the cherished "N" in soccer, the last to be issued in that sport.

SENIORS ON FIRST STRING: Elwood Orner, Thomas Baker, Larry Lerew, Donald Bonsell, Bob Brenneman, George Harlacker, John Ilgenfritz.

SENIORS ON SECOND STRING: Elwood Myers, Charles Urich, Dale Bear, Fred Shive. Bob Otto, who served as manager this year, played on the team for three years.

For the third year of varsity basketball, the Northern Polars did fairly well considering the amount of games and various other hurdles they had to cross. All in all it was a very good season starting the team off on a large bound towards future years. The J. V. team also had a "not too" successful year but have learned a lot and will make the future varsity great.

This year marks the beginning of football at Northern. Only the junior boys participated, but plans have been laid for the months and years ahead. Many new developments are sure to be seen.

Let's take a look at the past. This season's junior high squad made a good showing, considering the fact that they were "beginners." The boys were off to a flying start with a 14-7 defeat over Perry Joint. They lost to a strong Littlestown team 27-0, then put up a good fight against an experienced Mechanicsburg eleven, only to be defeated 20-7. Neither of the losses was a runaway, and the team showed spirit and enthusiasm.

Lois Evans, Roxie Diller, Barbara Hoopes, Jean Edgar, Irene Yost.

CHEERLEADERS

These seven girls cheered for all the soccer and basketball games. Their pep rallies held in the auditorium before the big games, urged the players to victory. They also did much in promoting school spirit. The captain of these peppy cheerleaders was Jane Davis.

GIRLS' TRACK

The 1955 girls' track team competed in the York County Track and Field Meet at York. Gail Alwine took first place in the 50 yard dash; Barbara Hoopes came in second in the basketball throw; Irene Yost came in fourth in the basketball throw. Lois Hughes came in third in the junior high basketball throw.

Northern competed with Mechanicsburg in a track meet here, which our Senior High girls won by the score of 44-62. The Senior High winners were: Gail Alwine, first and Irene Yost, second in the fifty yard dash; Barbara Hooper, first and Roxie Diller, third in the basketball throw; Gail Alwine, first in the high jump, jumping 3'-11"; Barbara Hoopes, first and Roxie Diller, third in the shot put; Irene Yost, first and Hoopes, second in the baseball throw; Gail Alwine, first and Jean McKeever, second in the broad jump.

SCHOOL DAYS.....

They cement many lasting friendships. Soon you and your classmates will take different roads, and it may be years before some of you will meet again. School days do not last forever--and when they are past, memories are kept warm by the photographs of friends of the classroom and campus.

Your chums should have a "personality portrait" of you, and so you will prize one of theirs in return. In a year or so you will be glad you took this means of keeping alive the memories of your school days. And the home folks will always cherish a portrait of the "turning point" in your life.

This studio is the headquarters for the special photographic work and the doors are open to students of the Northern High School and their friends.

Why not arrange to come to the studio now and have that photograph taken?

PROUDLY WE HAILED

It would neither be fitting nor proper for us to conclude this reminiscing record without mentioning a person who contributed much to our success as a class and our personalities as individuals.

William C. Evans concluded a career of service in education when he resigned as supervising principal Commencement night 1955.

He served in both World wars, a Second Lieutenant in the first and a Major in the second. He started as a teacher and coach of all varsity sports and athletic director in 1919. In 1947 he came to Dillsburg as principal of the Dillsburg High School. Mr. Evans was instrumental in getting our new high school building and served as Supervising Principal of the Jointure, in which capacity he retired from service. He was a much respected and a wonderful person and will remain in the memories of the Class of 1956 for years to come.

CONCLUSION

And finally, we come to commencement! This always will remain in our memories, a symbol of our high school days. As the name implies, we actually are beginning; beginning to live, beginning to learn. We already have begun striving to reach our goals and to give our contributions toward making the world a better place in which to live.

You have now seen the past and the present. What remains for you in the future depends upon you, for we no longer are a class; we now are individuals. Your success now, depends upon whether you make your life an example of what you learned, or whether you go your own way.

You know, opportunity is like a train or a bus; if you don't catch it, it will pass you by. Every day there are many opportunities round about. It is up to you to take advantage of them and make the best of them.

It is the editor's hope that this book will be a new horizon for you. The golden age of mankind lies ahead of us—it is our job to make it so. We all will have a share in working out the future of the world, of making history in the next 50 years.

With the guiding hand of the Great Father of us all, we shall move forward during the days of the next half century. With His help we shall attain the dream of freedom for all, and a better understanding of all mankind, and brotherhood among all the peoples of the world.

For this is our heritage and our responsibility as citizens of the United States of America. Use this book as a reference for the past, but always live for the future. Use its lessons and words of wisdom, and I can assure you, your life will be full.
